Hola! I'm Frances Díaz-Evans.

I am the founder and teacher at "Discovering Español," an online platform dedicated to providing Spanish education for children, and the creator of educational resources on Teachers Pay Teacher that focus on Hispanic/Latinx heritage, culture, and the Spanish language for grades K-6 and homeschoolers.

My profound love for teaching Spanish has been a guiding force in earning my Master's degree in education with a focus on Spanish. I have the privilege of teaching Spanish to elementary school students and I love creating resources that I use with them. My teaching approach goes beyond language instruction; I aim to bridge the language barrier by connecting heritage and culture, making Spanish language acquisition enjoyable and comprehensible.

As a Latina educator, author, and multicultural language advocate, I also founded the multicultural and bilingual parenting site, Discovering Español

My first children's book, "Coco the Puerto Rican Parrot," is available in both Spanish and English.
